Headquarters

ASPC physically established its headquarters in Sant Cugat (Barcelona, Spain): Avenida Alcalde Barnils 3-5, Sant Cugat del Vallés (08174, Spain). The change of company headquarters, as the case may be, must be approved at the General Assembly.

CAR Sant Cugat is hosting the Secretariat of the ASPC since it's inception in 2006

ASPC - BY-LAWS

General Order (Name, description, address, logo and scope)

Article 1

Adapted at the Forum Paris August 29, 2011 the new shorter name and abbreviation for the International Association of High Performance Sport Training Centers will now be; The Association of Sport Performance Centers or ASPC.

The Association is registered in Spain as the "International Association of High Performance Sport Training Centers".

ASPC physically established its headquarters in Sant Cugat (Barcelona, Spain): Avenida Alcalde Barnils 3-5, Sant Cugat del Vallés (08174, Spain). The change of company headquarters, as the case may be, must be approved at the General Assembly.

The ASPC is the private and representative body for the group of High Performance Sport Centers legally established in each corresponding state, where they hold a legal status and have full capacity to work towards the fulfillment of their goals and to defend their rights, in accordance to the prevailing legal sports law.

ASPC is a non-profit-making ASSOCIATION, with public and social interests, which will be governed by these by-laws, the internal regulation codes which may be approved at the General Assembly and also by the applicable state laws.

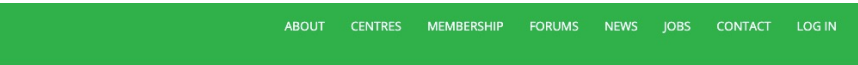

ASPC has its own logo, as shown in the drawing attached to these by-laws, which may not be used for any commercial purpose outside the association.

See Appendix: Identity protocol and branding standards attached

ABOUT ASPC

WHO WE ARE

After the success of the 1st forum, held at Sydney on September 1999 and the 2nd forum, held at Barcelona on September 2001 - it was clear that we needed a common place for the people and the organizations that work in the elite sports' fields to exchange experiences and information.

The ASPC is a values based organization. We bring value to Centres and Center leadership through Forums, exchanges, sharing of information, ideas and experiences. We are a continuous learning organization where we learn from each other as we develop and advance performance sport across the world.

Mission: To provide opportunities that enhance training for high performance sport worldwide.

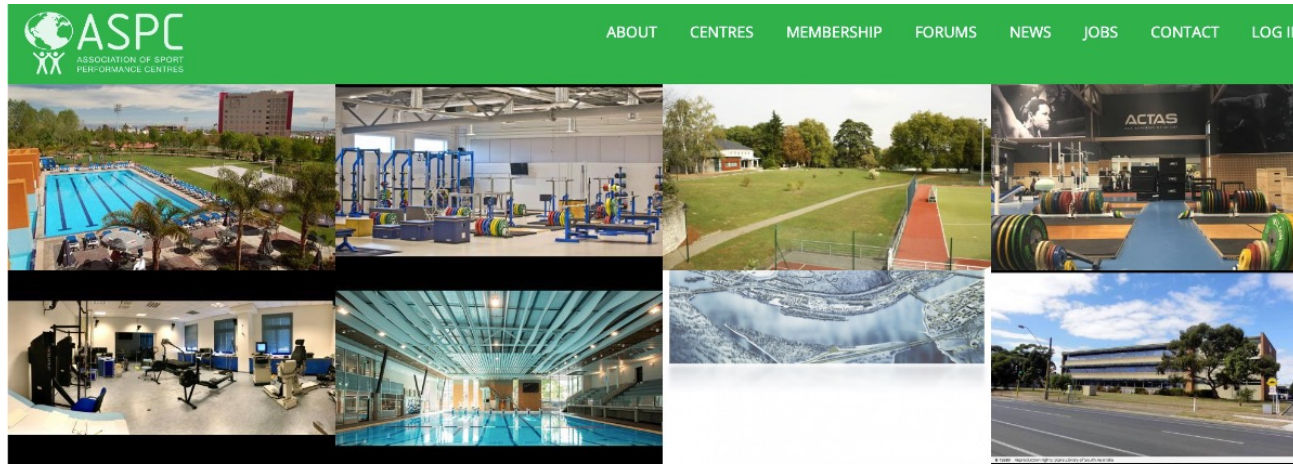

Vision: ASPC is an active partner with development and leadership of sport training centres, setting the standard in the global high performance training site community.

EU Sport Department Pledge Good Governance Policy

The screenshot shows the top navigation bar of the EU Sport Department website. It includes the European Commission logo, the word 'SPORT', and the tagline 'Supporting fair play and cooperation in sport'. Below this is a breadcrumb trail: 'European Commission > Policy overview > Organisation of sport > A pledge to implement Good Governance in European Sport'. A secondary navigation bar contains links for 'Home', 'Policies', 'Initiatives', 'Updates', 'Resources', and 'Contact'. The main heading reads 'A pledge to implement Good Governance in European Sport'. On the left, there is a sidebar menu with 'Overview', 'Anti-doping', and 'Free movement of sports people'. The main content area features a green banner for '#BEACTIVE European Week of Sport Flagship Event, 15 September 2016' and a sub-heading 'Introduction'. At the top right of the page, there are links for 'Legal notice', 'Cookies', 'Contact on Europa', and a search bar for 'Search on Europa' in English.

The following federations and organisations pledge to promote and, where appropriate, to implement and follow-up the principles of good governance in sport in accordance with the above declaration:

- ACES Europe
- Association of Sport Performance Centres (ASPC)
- British Olympic Committee
- Bulgarian Sports Development Association
